did diſdaine my childe, and ſtoode betweene her and her fortunes: none would looke on her, but caſt their gazes on Marinas face, whilſt ours was blurred at, and held a Mawkin, not worth the time of day. It pierc'd me thorow, and though you call my courſe vnnaturall, you not your childe well loving, yet I finde it greets me as an enterprize of kindneſſe, perform'd to your ſole daughter.

Cle. Heauens forgiue it.

Dion. And as for Pericles, what ſhould he ſay? wee wept after her hearſe, and yet we mourne: her monument is almoſt finiſhed, and her Epitaph in glittering golden charracters, expres a generall praiſe to her, and care in vs, at whoſe expence tis done.

Cle. Thou art like the Harpié,
Which to betray, doſt with thy Angels face,
Ceaze with thine Eagles talents.

Dion. You are like one, that ſuperſtitiouſly
Doth ſweare to'th gods, that vvinter kils the flies,

Thus time we waſte, and longeſt leagues make ſhort,
Saile ſeas in Cockels, haue and wiſh but fort:
Making to take our imagination,
From bourne to bourne, Region to region.
By you being pard'ned, we commit no crime
To vſe one Language, in each ſeuerall clime,
VVhere our ſcenes ſeeme to liue. I do beſeech you
To learne of me, who ſtands in gaps to teach you.
The ſtages of our ſtory Pericles,
Is now againe thwarting the wayward ſeas;
(Attended on by many a Lord and Knight)
To ſee his Daughter, all his liues delight.
Old Hellicanus goes along behinde,
Is left to gouerne it: you beare in minde
Old Eſcenes, whom Hellicanus late
Aduanc'd in time to great and high eſtate.
